

An atom is mostly empty space.

This is a map of an area approximately 600 meters in diameter. This would be the size of a hydrogen atom if the nucleus of the atom was this size:

